WUCWO Declaration

Adopted by the 600 participants from 44 countries.

'Peace is the fruit of justice' ...peace is likewise the fruit of love, which goes beyond what justice can provide.' (Gaudium et Spes, N. 78)

We, the women of the World Union of Catholic Women Organisations, gathered together from all continents and some island nations, understanding that 'peace is never attained once and for all, but must be built up ceaselessly' resolve to go from this Assembly accepting the challenge of commitment to:

- acknowledge in each person his/her dignity as a child of God, always seeking dialogue with respect, charity and truth, focusing on the positive qualities of each person;
- seek unconditional reconciliation with people from whom we are estranged, especially family members;
- undertake positive stances and actions, with believers and non-believers, for justice, truth and freedom, locally and globally;
- use all means available to us, including the media, to take positive action to influence our local, national and international leaders in Christian values, leading to just laws and the preservation of the environment;
- show respect for and tolerance of other faiths, trying always to discover our common values through ecumenical and religious dialogue;
- denounce policies, strategies and behaviour that are counter-productive to the fostering of justice and peace in every aspect of society, especially the violation of all human rights; in particular, violence and the abuse of the rights of the vulnerable, especially of women and children.

Motivated by Christ's teaching as explained in the Compendium of the Social Doctrine of the Church, that: "Peace is a value and a universal duty founded on a rational and moral order of society that has its roots in God himself, the first source of being, the essential truth and supreme good", the Catholic women of WUCWO recognise that one of the major challenges of these times is the establishment of a "culture of peace" at every level of human endeavour.

We, therefore, also resolve "as lay faithful, to work together with all those who truly seek peace, in specific organisations, to promote an extensive work of education to defeat the ruling culture of egoism, hate, revenge and hostility, and thereby develop solidarity at every level. Such solidarity, in fact, is the way to peace and at the same time to development." [Christifideles Laici]...
